Council adopts budget; city tax rate undecided

By Lynne Locke

Upland City Council has approved a budget of just under $10 million for the 1977-78 fiscal year. The $9,957,992 budget represents a slight decrease from the tentative budget frinsidered during May budget hearings.

The major change is the deletion of $100,000 for the city's new fire station on Benson Avenue. The city expects to receive construction funds for the fire station from a federal Public Works grant.

Employe salaries and the 1977-78 tax rate remain undecided. The council will consider employe salaries at the July 5 council hearings, with the tax rate being decided when information is available in August on Upland's assessed valuation.

Council members may disagree on the best tax rate for the city. The council policy has been to hold the tax rate at essentially the same level for the last several years.

During budget hearings Councilman Bill Bottin suggested the council consider raising the tax rate little by little so that residents would not be hit by a large jump when inflation-caused price rises will no longer allow the city to keep the same rate.

Mayor pro tem John McCarthy has suggested the city set a tax rate at "the minimum possible" since assessed valuations have been steadily rising.

Because of rising valuations, residents pay more each year even though the tax rate has remained about the same, he noted.

The 1977-78 budget includes:

— General services, $1,840,224

(18.5 per cent of the budget).

— Public safety including police and fire, $2,868,258 (28.9 per cent).

General services and tsengineering, $1,463,596 (14.7 per cent).

— Parks and recreation, $605,427 (6.1 per cent).

— Water operations and yaintenance, $1,637,032 (16.4 per cent).

— Water projects, $149,250 (1.5 per cent).

— Library, $411,914 (4.1 per cent).

— Capital outlay and improvement, $963,556 (9.6 per cent).

— Parking and business improvement district, $18,735 (0.2 per cent).

In the community organizations section of the budget, the council igroved grants to 10 community groups.

The largest allocation was $16,000 for the Upland Chamber of Commerce, which had reduced its budget request by $1,000 for the third year in a row.

West End Boys' Clubs Inc. received $5,350 and $1,250 each was approved for Wayne Fanning Alcohol Education Program Inc., West End Opera Association, and West End Symphony Association.

Chaffey Communities Cultural Center received an allocation of $1,200, with Reach Out West End, and Suicide and Crisis Intervention Service each receiving $1,000.

A $550 allocation was approved to the Town Affiliation (Sister City) Association and a $500 allocation for the Valley Oratorio Society.

A major funding question for the city in the next few weeks will be the designation of projects under the federal Public Works grant, aeatively set at $2.2 million for Upland.

The city's greatest need is for a storm drain system, according to Councilman Hal Bailin, who added that the short deadline for the public works bill funding does not allow enough time to formulate a storm drain proposal.

Projects proposed by the city include construction of the Benson Avenue fire station, relocation of city shops and general services offices, completion of the senior citizen community center, resurfacing streets, development of 11th Street and Citrus parks, water project, library addition, and Chaffey Cultural Center addition.

Shoemaker requests ACLU investigation

Upland community relations coordinator John Shoemaker has asked the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and the Fair Employment Practice Commission to investigate the deletion of his job from the city budget.

Upland City Council approved a motion June 20 to declare that the position of community relations is no longer necessary.

Funds for the position have not been included in the 1977-78 budget, so Shoemaker's job will no longer exist when the new fiscal year starts Friday, July 1.

Finance director Tony Andrade estimated deletion of the community relations position would save the city some $30,000 per year in salary, benefits and travel expenses.

Shoemaker said he had been advised not to discuss the basis for the investigations, but said he feels his position was deleted from the city budget because he is a member of a minority group.

He accused City Manager Lee Travers of being racist and added, "He's insensitive to the problems of the minorities and makes no effort to provide monies that should be provided for minority people."

The racism charge is "totally wrong," Travers said and added,

"I'm very concerned about the minorities. I am also concerned about duplication of effort on the staff."

Travers said his recommendation to delete the position of community relations was based on several changes in city programs during the last year.

The change of refuse collection from a city - provided service to a contracted service freed the sanitation supervisor to assume additional duties, he said and noted that the Police Department has also improved its public relations program.

Shoemaker, who is an American Indian, was one of 17 minority people holding management positions in the city. The 16 remaining minority employees, all at supervisor or division head levels, include four Spanish - surname, two Asian - American, and 10 women employees. The city has a total of 41 management positions.

The city received 20 letters from citizens and officials throughout the West End encouraging the City Council to retain the community relations position.

Shoemaker has written a weekly "Town Crier" column in the Upland News for 18 months.

approve raises

The employees, including confidential secretaries and district department directors, will receive a 6.4 per cent cost - of - living increase along with salary adjustment up to $67 per month.

The administrators, including assistant superintendents and principals, will receive a 6.5 per cent cost - of - living increase with the extra tenth of a per cent in place of salary adjustments.

The raises were approved on a 3-2 vote with Barry Brandt, William Rugg and Dale Anderson in favor of the increases and Dina Ross Hunter and Robert Ellis opposing the raises.

On a similar vote the board approved establishment of a new position for coordination of special programs, presently handled by Assistant Superintendent Loren Sanchez, who is also responsible for general instructional programs.

The visiting committee recommended that the department develop a math lab to provide individualized instruction.

The music department was commended for providing a variety of musical experiences for students. Recommendations included coordinating the junior high and high school programs to provide students with a "gradually developing" knowledge and experience of music.

Boys and girls physical education teachers were commended for beginning to develop a coeducational physical education program.

The visiting committee advised the departments to develop a "unified and well-developed" course of study for coed physical education as well as development of a remedial program for students who fail departmental or state-mandated testing.

Outdoor lab

The science department was commended for broad course offerings "designed to meet the needs of all students" and for developing plans for an outdoor living laboratory.

Recommendations included developing science electives for students who do not plan to attend college.

The visiting committee commended the social studies department for providing a variety of courses and developing materials to meet the demands of the quarter system.

Recommendations included continuing review of the social studies curriculum as well as increased communication with students on social studies graduation requirements.

The visiting committee's report has been sent to the WASC commission which will determine the number of years (usually 3-5) until Upland High School's next accreditation evaluation.

During the period between evaluations, the school is expected to work toward implementation of the visiting committee recommendations.

No relief seen for homeowners

County studies record budget

By PETER WONG

A record $286.8 million budget, one which probably won't require an increase in the county's property tax rate, was unveiled Monday before the county board of supervisors.

Although the proposed spending plan was described by County Administrative Officer Earl Goodwin as one "that will do the things that need to be done in this county," a majority of the supervisors vowed to trim it.

Even if the budget is cut, however, actual county spending is expected to exceed $300 million.

The supervisors indicated that if revenue from property taxes — the largest local financing source available to county government — does not go up as much as projected, they will reduce services rather than raise the present tax rate of $3 per $100 of assessed valuation.

That rate, which hasn't been changed in five years, might even drop by a few cents in the coming year.

However, that would offer little relief for many West End homeowners, whose tax payments will go up anyway because of increases in property appraisals and the assessments on which their taxes are based.

The budget assumes that assessed valuations countywide will go up by 9.8 per cent in the coming year and that property tax revenue will increase by nearly $7 million, from $65.6 million in the current budget to $72 million.

The supervisors will not know how much assessments have risen countywide until July 11, when county Assessor Robert J. Herbin is expected to present the figures.

At that time, the supervisors will have a better idea of whether the tax rate will have to be increased or can be decreased. The final tax rate must be set by Sept. 1.

At 2 p.m. July 11, the supervisors will begin up to 10 days of public hearings on the budget.

"I'm not satisfied with the proposed budget in terms of its being most austere," Supervisor James L. Mayfield of Apple Valley said.

"It's probably doing far more than what we've ever done in the past — but I also recognize that because of limited revenue in the past, we had cut some of the departments back to bare bones.

"But I think we can do a great deal more work — in fact, I think we should."

Supervisor Joseph Kamansky of Upland agreed, saying, "This is not my approval of this total request."

Although Mayfield didn't refer to it directly, the budget presented Monday — 13.5 per cent greater than the current year's budget of $252.6 million — will be reviewed by the supervisors under more favorable financial circumstances than at this time last year.

Then, the supervisors faced the likelihood of cutting county programs, including a drastic reduction in the number of county employees, as well as raising the property tax rate by at least 17 cents, even with the cuts.

An increase in the tax rate was averted, but county programs were cut and the number of county employees was reduced.

This year, the budget proposes to add the equivalent of 520 full-time employees to the county work force of 7,245.

Nearly half of these, however, will be paid from state and federal funds, which, along with other sources, are expected to account for $214.8 million of the proposed county budget, up 14.8 per cent from $187 million in the current year.

Increases in property tax revenue will pay for the rest.

Total county spending for the year starting Friday will actually be higher than the $286.8 million in the preliminary budget.

First, the budget does not include federal public works funds and additional federal employment funds the county has received recently. They will be added before the budget is adopted.

Second, the budget includes only $3 million of the operating cost of the county medical center in San Bernardino. That represents the county's share of costs.

Of the center's own budget of $25.6 million for the coming year, all but

$3 million will consist of payments from the federal Medicare program, the state's Medi-Cal program and private insurance plans. The center is budgeted separately.

So spending on all county government activities will top $300 million in the next year.

Despite its growth, the regular budget's spending for three major county functions — welfare, justice and health care — remains virtually unchanged.

Nearly 68 per cent of the budget proposed for the coming year will pay for those programs, compared with 66.6 per cent in the current year.

"The major county programs serve the poor, the unfortunate, the needy and those in trouble. This is not a glamorous role, and it does not touch the average citizen or property taxpayer," Goodwin said.

"The county alone, not any city or district, assumes for the entire countywide population the expense of operating and financing (such programs)."

Goodwin said many of those programs are mandated by the state legislature and Congress and that the supervisors have little choice in reducing them.

Nevertheless, a majority of the supervisors pledged they would keep the local share of county government costs — in essence, property tax revenue, which accounts for about 25 per cent of county income — from increasing by no more than eight per cent in the coming year.

"Arbitrary as it may appear, I feel that an increase in the budget — an overall increase in the local share of the budget — of more than eight per cent is too high," Supervisor Dennis L. Hansberger of Yucaipa said.

Hansberger, who as vice chairman presided in the absence of Chairman Robert O. Townsend of Chino, suggested that $300,000 be trimmed from the budget.

Chief probation officer named

Jerry D. Hill has been appointed San Bernardino County's chief probation officer, effective Aug. 1. Hill, 43, will succeed Stewart C. Smith, who is retiring after more than 22 years as chief probation officer.

Hill has served as chief probation officer in Solano County since March, 1973, and held a similar position in Madera County for the previous 10 years.

Technically, Hill's appointment was made by John Ingro, presiding judge of the county's Juvenile Court, as required by law. But Hill's selection was determined by a committee of county officials.

Hill has been credited with starting a number of programs during his term in Solano County. Among these were:

— A center for short-term residential treatment and crisis resolution for juveniles.

— A pretrial release program.

NEW SCANNER — The new Computed Tomography Scanner at San Antonio Community Hospital lets doctors look at areas in the body previously only visible through surgery. With a set of photographs from the machine spread out on the table upon which subjects lie, Dr. David Berry, a radiologist, explains the workings of the device to Cathy Kirk, hospital volunteer.

Hospital displays scanner for examining human body

A private open house was held last week at the San Antonio Community Hospital in Upland to show off a new piece of equipment which allows physicians to examine all areas of the body — including areas which could be viewed previously only during exploratory surgery.

The Computed Tomography Scanner is housed in the hospital's Radiology Department and is capable of producing highly accurate and detailed images of the internal organs of the body, hospital spokesmen explained.

Hospital personnel, auxiliary board members, foundation board members, trustees, architects and contractors were invited to view the operation of the machine which is currently being used at least four times a day.

The scanner went into use on May 16 at a total cost of $495,000. It takes approximately one hour to undergo an examination on the machine.

The scanner allows physicians to visualize soft tissues such as the brain, liver and pancreas, without exploratory surgery, spokesmen explained.

The machine detects abnormalities which before were not even detectable by x-ray, such as the difference between white and gray matter in the brain, spokesmen said.

A patient lies on a couch which passes through the scanning unit between the x-ray source and the detector.

X-rays in a slit-like fan beam pass through the body, the detectors analyze the intensity of the beams and the physician has the result.

The machine rotates 10 degrees and repeats the process until it has made a 180 degree arc around the patient and projects the results on a video screen which stores scans so a permanent record is available for follow-up reference.

Conditions involving tumors, cysts, blood clots and aneurysms can be more accurately diagnosed than ever before, hospital personnel said.

The device, engineered by Godfrey N. Hounsfield at the Central Research Laboratories of EMI Limited in England, was introduced in the United States about five years ago.

And whatever shows, costs.

Here's one simple solution. Keep your indoor temperature at 78° instead of 70° and you could cut your cooling costs up to 30 percent. Air conditioning is supposed to keep you comfortable, not cold.

By the way, make sure all your doors and windows are closed. Why pay to air condition the neighborhood?

Again, remember. Indoor temperature 78° or higher.

It's another way you can help conservation. And it will definitely pay off — next time your meter reader shows up.

MAKE EVERY KILOWATT COUNT.

Where to go

Give me some mental health

By Bob Robison

"Here's my $14,409,184. Give me some mental health." Twenty years ago, the answer would have been simple. "Want some mental health? Of course. Sign right here please."

You sign on the dotted line — or someone signs for you — and it's off to Patton State Hospital you go.

Of course this is great is long-term, inpatient care is what you need. But what if you need help coping with everyday problems? Or you're having trouble at home, with your boss? Do you really need to be taken out of your community and placed under 24-hour care?

No, you don't. At least, not necessarily.

The $14½ million is the San Bernardino County Department of Mental Health's budget for the fiscal year 1976-77 (which will begin July 1). More than 76 per cent of this budget is allocated for DMH programs and contract services which provide treatment to residents in their own communities.

The services provided range from hour-long weekly counseling sessions to day care and rehabilitation programs to short-term inpatient care. Specialized services are provided to children and adolescents, senior citizens, drug abusers, alcohol abusers and minority groups.

The following are direct services provided by the Department of Mental Health. Each DMH program provides services to county residents on an ability-to-pay basis. Each program can also refer residents to contract agencies providing similar services on the same ability to pay basis.

— Alcoholism Services Program, building 5, Central Mental Health Unit, 700 E. Gilbert St., San Bernardino, 383-2747. The program provided comprehensive evaluation, outpatient counseling, 24-hour information and referral, and drinking driver education services.

— Child and Adolescent Services, building 4, Central Unit, 383-3238. Comprehensive services are provided for minors and their families.

— Methadone Maintenance Program, 838-1660 in San Bernardino, 984-1781 in Ontario. A maintenance and gradual detoxification program for drug abusers, to be used only after other programs have failed.

— Outpatient Services, building 1, Central Unit, 838-2173. The program provides short-term, intensive psychiatric treatment for adults, couples and families.

— Outreach Program — La Casa Ramona 888-5411, Westside Outreach 887-4212, and Monterey Outreach 884-5017, all in San Bernardino. These locations provide comprehensive community-based services for Mexican-Americans, blacks and low-income Anglos.

— Continuing Care Services — 883-6817 in San Bernardino, 256-6932 in Barstow, and 988-1391 in Ontario. These services aid recently hospitalized patients in making the transition back into community life.

— Geriatric Assessment, Inpatient Services and Partial Hospitalization programs are entered through the DMH Admission and Departure Section, building 1, Central Unit, 838-2173. The Geriatric Assessment program provides 24-hour care, evaluation and treatment for persons over age 65. The Inpatient Program provides short-term 24-hour care, treatment and rehabilitation.

These are the basic direct treatment programs provided by the Department of Mental Health. Similar services are provided by contract through private agencies in San Bernardino and other areas of San Bernardino County. For more detailed information about the DMH program and agencies in your area, write me care of Bonita Publications, P.O. Box 4000, Ontario 91761.

"I'd Like Some Mental Health, Please!" is a public information service of Bonita Publications and the San Bernardino County Department of Mental Health.

HOSPITAL GROWTH — The emergency room at San Antonio Community Hospital serves more than 35,000 patients a year now, but just 10 years ago only about 5,000 patients visited the emergency department each year for treatment. Barbara Laidlaw, a senior clerk in the department, concentrates on some of the paperwork which has multiplied almost 1,000 times during the past decade. This has been the fastest growing department in the hospital during the past 10 years, administrators noted.

Seminar

Dr. Leslie Hardinge, Prophetic Guidance Seminars director for the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will conduct a seminar Saturday at the Covina Seventh-day Adventist Church, 1067 E. Badillo St. His topic will be "And So God Speaks" — scripture 2 Peter 1:16-21. The seminar will continue at 3:30 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5 and 6.

Dr. Hardinge served Pacific Union College in Angwin, California for six years as professor of religion. He was chairman of the religion department at Columbia Union College, Washington D.C. for 15 years. He also taught at Loma Linda University, Riverside, of which he is an alumnus, and at Union College, Lincoln, Nebraska. He was chairman of the department of religion at Newbold College in England 1960-64.

Dr. Hardinge has authored five books: "Shadows of His Sacrifice," "These Watched Him Die," "Elisha, Man of God," "Dove of God," and "The Celtic Church — Its Beliefs and Practices." He has travelled widely, lecturing on Bible topics across North America and Europe, and has twice visited the holy lands.

The seminar is open to the public.

Art Sunday

Members of the community are invited to participate in Art Sunday 10 a.m. July 3 at Northminster Presbyterian Church in Diamond Bar. Various arts and crafts of members and guests will be displayed on the church grounds before and after the service.

The whole family is also invited to a family service beginning at 8:45 a.m. This week, David and Mary Darrow will share their experiences with the congregation. The summer series features a different family each week.

Fellowship Brethren

The Fellowship Church of the Brethren, 2282 Third St., La Verne, will have Dr. Glen Crago, who is a member of the congregation, and also a minister of the Church of the Brethren, as speaker at the 10:15 a.m. service Sunday, July 3. Dr. Crago is a leader of Camp Farthest Out, and president of the Southern California Archeological Association.

Valley Drive-In

The Valley Community Drive-In Church in San Dimas is offering two unusual opportunities for residents this summer. Every Sunday morning at 8:30 and 10 people may worship in their cars and participate. The sermon by Senior Pastor Melvin DeVries this Sunday is "Let's Celebrate." Worshipers may also attend church inside at 10 a.m.

The second opportunity is Sunday night full-length Christian films shown at dusk. The drive-in section makes it possible for entire families to sit in their cars and watch a large screen picture. There is no charge but offerings are accepted. The film this Sunday night is the popular production of the Lord's pronouncement "He shall return as a thief in the night." The film, "Thief in the Night," is an explanation of possible fulfillment of the prophecy.

LV Presbyterian

"God's Call to Involvement in the World" will be the topic 10 a.m. Sunday for La Verne Heights' Youth Director Karl Shadley's sermon at the La Verne Heights Presbyterian Church.

The church recently accepted eight persons into its membership: Vic and Cherie Arlotti, Ron and Vicki Haro, Norm and Sue Kamp, Bob and Lorraine Young.

Through the week of July 5 - 9, Shadley will lead a Junior High Twilight Camp at the church which will culminate in a trip to Catalina Island. All the experiences of a week-long camp are offered for $16. To register call the church office, (714) 593-1017. A $5 deposit is required.

Altar Society

Installation of officers for the Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Parish of Montclair was held recently at a dinner meeting at Henri's restaurant in Montclair.

Installing officer Rev. Father Phillip O'Carroll invested Kathryn Wilson as president and Mrs. Joseph Pertusatti, vice president. Mrs. Arthur A. Novelli was

Wilson in program

Leland Wilson, minister of the La Verne Church of the Brethren, will participate in the British-American Preacher's Exchange Program during July and August.

The program is sponsored by the British Council of Churches, in cooperation with the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States.

Wilson will speak at nine different churches throughout the British Isles. In England, he will be in the cities of Letchworth, Oxford, Birmingham, Leamington Spa, Ewell, Bilton and Bristol. In August he will be in Fife, Scotland and Dublin, Ireland.

The denominations of the churches include Free Church, Methodist, Baptist, United Reformed, Anglican, Church of Scotland and Presbyterian.

The minister of the church in Scotland, Walter Learmonth, was guest minister in the La Verne Church of the Brethren in 1972 as part of this exchange program.

Wilson's wife, Patricia, will accompany him. They will both attend the North American Summer Sessions at Mansfield College (one of the Oxford University group) and an international reading conference at Avery Hill College of Education in London.

Wilson was granted a professional improvement leave by the church to participate in this program.

CREATIVE ARTS 1977 — Mr. and Mrs. Biff Green engage in a challenging game of cribbage with assistance from daughter Jennifer. Mrs. Green and Julie Kurtz are coordinators for "Creative Arts 1977," a learning experience in arts and crafts for all ages, scheduled Wednesday evenings during July at the La Verne Church of the Brethren, corner of Bonita Avenue and E. Street, La Verne. For more information call (714) 593-1364. (Photo by Peggy Olsen)

Summer classes set at local Bible school

The Alta Loma School of the Bible, a Bible school for laymen and laywomen which is an outreach of King of Glory Lutheran Church in Alta Loma, will start its summer session on Tuesday, July 5 and Thursday, July 7.

Two 12-hour courses meeting for four consecutive weeks will be offered at the Christ-centered evening school.

The purpose of the Bible school is to fulfill the "great commission of Christ" by preparing the student with solid Bible teaching and to help the student along the road to spiritual maturity so that he or she in turn will be able to teach and help others along to maturity also," said the Rev. Tom Koske, dean of the school.

A course entitled "How to Study the Bible" will be taught by Rev. Koske, pastor of King of Glory Lutheran Church, 7-10 p.m. Tuesdays for four weeks.

The course is designed for the student of the Bible to answer questions related to Biblical interpretation such as: Why does the Bible use figurative language? What do the parables mean?

What are the principles of interpretation for both clear and unclear passages? How is typology used in the New Testament? Why are there so many translations?

A second course on the Books of I and II Timothy will be taught 7-10 p.m. Thursdays by Gary Amaon, currently a member of Trinity Christian Center in Riverside and engaged in their intern ministers training program which combines Biblical studies and practical ministry.

LVC gets minister

Steven W. Gregory, pastor of the Ladera Church of the Brethren in Los Angeles, will assume duties as full time minister at La Verne College this fall.

Gregory, an alumnus of the college, is a native of Tacoma, Washington. He will succeed La Verne professor John Gingrich who presently operates the position on a half-time basis.

"With a growing student body and staff, there is a need for an enlarged program to meet the needs of the students at La Verne College through the campus ministry program" explained Eugenia Brubaker, director for church relations at the college.

Aid for retirees needed

By Representative
Jim Lloyd

President Carter's recent request for review and reform of the Social Security system emphasizes what Congress has already started.

Through a survey I had made in the 35th District, 64 per cent of the respondents ranked retirement income as a first priority item.

While the administration entertains the prospects of a major overhaul, the House is fine-tuning the social security machine to keep the vast vehicle running and more equitable benefits flowing.

When the subcommittee of Social Security begins its hearings in mid-July, the limit on post-retirement earnings will be a significant issue.

Since I sponsored HR 494

on Jan. 4 to repeal all limits on outside income for Social Security recipients, more than a hundred bills on the subject have been submitted. Some share my goal of removing the limit, but many others would raise the present ceiling of $3,000.

For the pensioner who is fully retired, Congress has the goal of protecting his purchasing power. No sooner does that July increase appear on a pensioner's check than a rent increase or rise in food prices makes it meaningless.

Several remedies are in the works to strengthen that small raise. HR 6515 would allow for raises twice a year, if the cost-of-living index indicates it. The actual composition of the triggering device, the consumer price index, is also the subject of legislation.

One reform would allow a "senior consumer" index to be constructed as the trigger. Such an index would eliminate some of the items not usually found on the shopping list of a pensioner: baby clothes or surfboards, for instance.

Congress would help senior workers stay in the mainstream of employment by combating mandatory retirement laws and promoting flexible work schedules.

Hearings are currently being held on a bill to amend the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967. The bill, which I have cosponsored, would bar private pension plans which force retirement of workers at age 40 and older.

Another bill would remove the upper age limit for all workers.

On other fronts the work goes on. According to a survey in the 35th District, crime was considered the prime concern of 84 per cent of the respondents. It is one of the most pervasive fears of the elderly, who are so often its victims.

One bill likely to pass the Compensation for Victims of Crime Act, would grant federal funds to states that now have a compensation law on the books. California is one of the 19 that would benefit if the bill becomes law.

I will report on this and other matters of interest as indicated in that survey, as we move through the national agenda items of energy, tax reform and welfare.

(Lloyd, a Democrat, represents the 35th Congressional District, which includes San Dimas, La Verne, Diamond Bar, Walnut, and the West End of San Bernardino County.)

Introducing Clint Graham

Outstanding carrier for The Bulletin

Introducing Clint Graham, one of Bonita Publication's crack carriers!

Clint, a Diamond Bar resident who delivers The Bulletin weekly newspaper, accomplished a feat most carriers would be hard put to beat under normal conditions. You see, Clint has two routes to fold, insert, throw and collect, so when his collection books were stolen it hit him hard. He lost two days collecting time while the books were replaced. To top that off, someone collected on most of one of the routes which naturally caused anger among the homeowners in the area.

Clint overcame this by explaining at each door what had happened and leaving a phone number for the people who were interested in verification of his story. His district advisor spent time discussing with him all the prospects of catching the culprit. All and all, the prospects were not good, Clint was pretty upset.

"Because the young man and myself are Christians I suggested he pray about it and I myself would lift it to the Lord in Bible study that night," said Carolyn Crean, his district advisor. "We did, and the results were astounding. The next day a neighbor reported seeing someone whom he could not identify drop the missing collection book on Clint's porch and run away. This means this route can no longer be illicitly collected on."

However, the part that is a tribute to Clint himself is that in spite of all this trouble he still managed to get 45 collections on one route and 65 collections on the other. This was truly a job well done under poor circumstances while facing justly angry people.

Bonita Publications would like to say "well done" to Clint and "thank you" to those homeowners who paid twice for their paper in May.

A MESSAGE TO CLASSIFIED AD USERS

You are about to invest money in an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results. Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and cost less in the long run.

1. Don't Omit The Address

Many out-of-town readers will write you but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. Don't Omit The Phone Number

Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. Don't Use Blind Box Numbers

They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. Don't Conceal The Price

Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. Don't Leave Home on The Days You Advertise

Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

CELEBRATING OUR 20th ANNIVERSARY

DEAR OLDSMOBILE OWNER..... I've been in the car business now for more than 47 years. What success I have had, I attribute to the "Golden Rule," which merely means that I treat my customers in the same way as I'd want to be treated when I bought a new car, used car, or had mine repaired and serviced. The results speak for themselves, both in our steady growth and success as an Oldsmobile dealer and in our year after year national awards for excellence. If you're already a member of our "Olds" family, I thank you for contributing to our success. If not, I invite you to become one soon!

Sincerely,

Graydon E. Murphy

You and Your Pet

Vaccinate exotic pets too

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories
The World Health Organization suggests — and most veterinarians agree — that "the taking of animals from the wild should be discouraged."
However, many animals are being domesticated today, and it is important to keep in mind that they have definite health needs. Like other pets, these animals need proper food, shelter and regular veterinary care.
Vaccination against rabies is an important part of medical care for exotic pets. Rabies is a viral disease capable of infecting any warm-blooded animal, and almost all warm-blooded pets should, as a preventive measure, be vaccinated.
Vaccination of exotic pets should be done with caution since they do not always respond uniformly to vaccines designed for use on domesticated animals. Your veterinarian will explain why only inactivated forms of rabies vaccine should be used.

Some owners of exotic pets argue that a quarantine period proves their pet is rabies-free and that indoor living will prevent the pet from ever being infected. This is not true.
Rabies has an uncertain and sometimes lengthy incubation period. Studies have shown that the virus may take anywhere from 15 to 285 days before it reaches the brain and causes recognizable symptoms. A bite on a pet's back leg by a rabid animal would introduce the virus at a great distance from the brain, causing a lengthy incubation period.
Even certified capture of a very young animal cannot guarantee a rabies-free pet.

Wild animals as young as 6 weeks of age have been known to contract the disease from an infected mother.
You should note that the term "exotic pet" is not limited to animals imported from abroad. A number of native American animals including the skunk fox and raccoon are included in this category because they have not been domesticated through long association with man, and because they are never really at home in captivity.

ORDINANCE NO. 1144
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF UPLAND AMENDING THE UPLAND MUNICIPAL CODE TO ADD SENIOR CITIZENS HOUSING DEVELOPMENTS.
The City Council of the City of Upland does ordain as follows:
SECTION 1. SECTION 9110-117 - N.
SECTION 2. SENIOR CITIZENS HOUSING DEVELOPMENT - CRITERIA.
010 DESCRIPTION AND PURPOSE.
This section is intended to provide criteria for the development of non-profit housing especially designed for the use and occupancy by elderly persons of low to moderate incomes. It is further purpose of this section to recognize such housing as a special class of land use distinguished from other forms of residential use by its unique characteristics associated with the needs of elderly low income persons. The following standards are established to ensure that such uses are not only designed in recognition of the intended occupancy, but will also be compatible with other uses permitted in the same zone or district in which located, and to protect and enhance the public health, safety and welfare. The standards shall apply notwithstanding the requirements of the specific residential zone wherein such housing development is to be located.
020 PROJECT ELIGIBILITY.
The following criteria shall apply for consideration of approval of a Conditional Use Permit for non-profit Senior Citizen Housing Development:
021 Required Improvements and Service.
